

ABOUT THE JUROR

Mary Lucking is a national public artist who creates work that helps people explore and understand the environments and communities where they live. Her work includes art that is incorporated into urban and rural walking and biking trails, public transit stations, college campuses, and neighborhood parks. Mary holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Architecture from Wellesley College and a Master of Fine Arts in Art and Technology from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago. Over the years she has won many awards for her work including CODA awards (Collaboration of Design + Art) Public Spaces Award of Merit, Public Art Network Year in Review, and Valley Forward Award of Merit. She currently lives and works in Phoenix, Arizona and continues a private studio practice where she uses enamel and wood carving techniques to create sculptural objects.
